

Swift Enterprises' Privacy Policy

Nothing is more important to Swift Enterprises than protecting the private information of visitors to our site. Below you'll find information about our commitment to ensuring the privacy of your personally identifiable information. Please read the following carefully.

Gathering and Use of Information

Swift Enterprises will never willfully disclose any personally identifiable information about our online audience to any third party without first receiving the user's permission. We do not collect personally identifiable information from our visitors other than what is supplied to us on a voluntary basis.

Swift Enterprises may use such information only for conducting the activities stated above, for internal marketing and promotional purposes, or, on occasion, when mailing lists are made available to other organizations. (The occasional provision of mailing lists to such organizations is the only case where such information would be provided to third parties). For more information regarding Swift Enterprises's policies on the handling and use of Swift Enterprises's membership list, please see Swift Enterprises's Membership List Policy. The extent of such use is always explained at the time a site visitor provides such information. If the visitor does not want this information collected and used by us for the disclosed internal purposes, the visitor is given an opportunity to 'opt-out.' Our visitors need to recognize, however, that under certain circumstances, if they select to 'opt-out' they may not be eligible for certain activities for which the personally identifiable information is needed. (For example, if a contest participant elects to 'opt-out' on permitting us to collect and use their personal information, we cannot contact them if they win without using such information.)
